

Ceramist Lene Kuhl Jakobsen

Hi there.

I am very pleased to send you the first 2013 newsletter and to announce my NEW WEBSITE www.lenekuhl.com at a new web address.

www.lenekuhl.com is up and running and packed with images and information about my work.

You can read about coming exhibitions and events and also have a look at previous ones.

In the next few months I am participating in 3 and hopefully 4 exhibitions.

As usual I will have a stall at a few markets and in May (18th and 19th) I take part in the Nordic Festival in Warburton.

More about this in the next newsletter.

www.lenekuhl.com takes you directly to works which are available for purchase or ordering.

I hope you will enjoy having a look around the website to see what I have been creating.

Please also note that there are two new email addresses studio@lenekuhl.com and mail@lenekuhl.com

My old website and email address will work for a while yet but if possible please start using the new ones.

Thanks for your support of locally made ceramics and feel free to forward this newsletter to others who might be interested.

Cheers,

Lene

You are invited to the opening of 'She' on 7th March at 6.30pm. My installation piece 'Skin-deep' has been included in this exhibition at The Walker Street Gallery showing from 7th-28th March.

Opening Hours:
Mon-Fri: 11am-5pm
Sat: 11am-3pm

Address:
Crn Walker St. and Robinson St.
Dandenong
Read more about my piece here

The Gallery on Heering Island in the Yarra River shows 4 exhibitions during the weekends over the summer period. 'Haven' is the Ceramics Victoria members exhibition which I take part in. It is on from 23 March-7 April. More details here about opening hours and how to get across to the island. Read here about my piece titled Memento 13' 03' 17'S 13' 54' 18' E.

The bowl 'Skarpsallingkarret' is one I admire greatly and have seen a few times when visiting the National Museum in Kobenhavn. This bowl was made about 5000 years ago and found in a Stone Age grave in Jutland Denmark. The fine decorations were made by using shell and bird bone. Looking at ancient ceramic pieces I always wonder about those past makers...who sometimes even left finger prints in the clay.

Saturday Markets in March which I attend:

2nd March: The Rose Street Market in Fitzroy

rosetmarket.com.au

16th March: The Ivanhoe Makers Market in Ivanhoe

qualitymakersmarket.blogspot.com

23th March: The Maribyrnong Makers Market in Seddon

maribyrnongmakersmarket.com.au

Or find the addresses and times on themarketroll.com.au