

Hi there.

We are well into Autumn which is a season I like here in Melbourne. The photos show 2 pieces of ceramics I made a long time ago. The leaves were real ones which I used to create the 2 types of 'prints' using earthy coloured glazes.

Talking about the past: I am going to attend a reunion with people from the ceramics course I did from 1974-78 in Kolding Denmark.... 40 year on.....it will be interesting to meet and hear what everyone has been doing since those days.

So I will be away in June catching up with family and friends and have a look at a few exhibitions during the Danish summer.

These pieces are waiting to be bisqued in my kiln and then later fired in my friend Sandra's wood fired kiln.

The cooler weather makes it possible for her to get this kiln firing again.!

look forward to taking part and test new glazes.

I have also been 'testing' jam and chutney recipes using cumquats and tomatoes grown in the clean air in Ballan.....

Markets in May:

Saturday 10th at Rose Street in Fitzroy. From 11am-5pm

Saturday 17th at Ivanhoe Makers Market. Crn of Livingstone St and Waterdale Rd. From 10am-4pm

Cheers Lene
