Ceramist and Artist

Hi there!

Hi there.

I am very excited about the two exhibitions I will be taking part in shortly.

The first is 'Facts of Matter' at The Linden New Art Gallery at St Kilda.

The photo on the invitation is a detail from my installation titled 'Memento (un)known'

OPENING INVITATION

Paul Duldig, Chair & Vincent Alessi, CEO + Director together with the Board and team of Linden New Art invite you to the opening of

CLAY MATTERS > Facts of Matter

Friday 23 February
6PM > 8:30PM

At Linden Projects Space,
Rear 26 Acland Street, St Kilda

+RSVP HERE

Linden New Art and CLIMARTE are proud to present Facts of Matter, a group exhibition by Melbourne art collective Clay Matters. Curated by Cinda Manins, Facts of Matter showcases the creative, practical, and emotional responses of ten artist-activists whose ceramic-based work advocates for sustainable action against climate change and environmental damage.

Facts of Matter is presented in partnership with CLIMARTE as part of the 2024 National Sustainable Living Festival program. Featured artists: Pattie Beerens, Amelia Black, Amanda Bromfield, Claire Ellis, Vicki Grima, Lene Kuhl Jakobsen, Cinda Manins, Elnaz Nourizadeh, Jane Sawyer and Madeleine Thornton Smith.

Facts of Matter is proudly supported by City of Port Phillip Cultural Development Fund. IMAGES > Lene Kuhl Jakobsen, Memento (un)known (detail), 2023. Image courtesy of the artist.

The second exhibition has the theme 'Habitat' and will be showing at The Hive' Art Gallery at Ocean Grove.

The invite shows a detail of my work 'Tidal Mementos'.....yes, I like that word memento which mean both reminder and warning.

I am pleased to be included with 5 ceramists whom I have known and admired for some time.

You can see more of my work for this exhibition here.
